

INDIGO WINTER

César Herce & Adrián Rodríguez

Lucas is a special boy. There is something inside of him that makes him different from the boys of his age. Something that makes him more intelligent than the rest of the class, something that allows him to talk to the toys in his room or move things without touching them just through his will. He tries to go unnoticed but all his efforts are useless when his worst nightmares, embodied by odd monsters that harass him as far back as he can remember, are about to come to life.

Color | 20x26 cm. | 72 pp. | Collection: Comic

WORLD RIGHTS AVAILABLE

