

ULYSSES

Damián Connelly & Nicolás Brondo

+18

Ulysses is a young boy who lives alone in a big house on the outskirts of a small town and who has a strange peculiarity: he has the head of a wolf. The life of this creature changes when, in one of his nocturnal escapes to the town, he meets Lin, a young prostitute with whom he falls openly in love with; this will be a conflict where Ulysses will have to fight against his animal side to build a relationship with the girl.

B/W | 17x24 cm | 116 pp. | Collection: Comic

